HEALING LODGE

The internationally accredited Mikaaming Mino Pimatiziwin Healing Lodge promotes an addictions free lifestyle and provides culturally focused programming in a safe environment to First Nations and Inuit families honoring their gifts and strengths.

The Pretreatment Unit at Mikaaming Mino Pimatiziwin Healing Lodge (MMPHL) aligns with this main mission by providing safe, person-centered, accessible, respectful, care for individuals seeking support from substance use. Services are strength based and trauma-informed, guided by harm reduction principles committed to reducing stigma.

The Pretreatment Unit (PTU) features a community based 3 bed pilot program that provides a non-medical supportive environment for adult participants who are voluntarily seeking support to safely remove themselves from substance use. Participants engage in programming for approximately 10-14 days while preparing for the next stage of their healing and recovery journey, which may include residential treatment or other healing and support services.
